

SIX SPANIARDS ASSASSINATED

They Are Shot Down in Cold Blood by Band of Rebels.

SPAIN LODGES PROTEST

Mexico Now in Diplomatic Controversies With Three Nations as Result of Revolution.

Mexico City, April 26.—Spain, through her minister, a Mexican, Bernart, today made formal protest to the Foreign Office against the assassination of six subjects of King Alfonso in Puebla last Monday. He requested the capture and punishment of the assassins.

With this registering of Spain's protest, Mexico now finds herself in diplomatic controversies with three nations as the result of incidents growing out of the revolution. The difficulties with Spain and Great Britain will involve anything more serious than the formal exchange of notes.

Minister De la Barra gave assurances that his country would do all in its power to punish the guilty persons and expressed his deep regret that such an incident should have occurred, especially since the victims were foreigners and no one implicated in the fight against the revolutionists.

Spaniards Shot.

Six Spaniards were shot and killed Monday at the Hacienda Atencio, in the State of Puebla, by a small band of rebels following their return to contribute 5,000 pesos to the insurgent cause.

Atencio is the hacienda where the rebels some days ago secured a quantity of rifles, considerable ammunition and 25,000 pesos. On account of that fact the owner of the hacienda, Angel Diaz Rubin, a Spaniard, announced his intention of demanding an indemnity. The rebels refused. They then attacked the Spaniards and drove them from the house, crying out: "Run, for we are going to shoot you!"

As they ran, six of the Spaniards dropped with bullets in their backs. The reason assigned by the rebels for the onslaught is that a Spaniard gave information of their whereabouts to the authorities, who had been hard pressing them.

The news of the shooting was received here this morning, and immediately the Spanish minister called at the foreign office.

The government is not ready to announce the names of the men who will represent the government in the peace conference, and no statement has been made as to where the meeting will be held. There is a good reason for believing it will be on Mexican territory. At the foreign office the announcement was made this afternoon that the armistice would be extended for five days, and Minister de la Barra expressed the opinion that no further extension would be given. He said, however, that an agreement could be reached within that time.

Fighting at Mazatlan.

Douglas, Ariz., April 25.—A letter to an American in Douglas, from Mazatlan, the Pacific port of Sinaloa, Mexico, received today, gives an account of a battle near Mazatlan a few days ago. According to this letter, the battle was fought at the same time that fighting was going on in Agua Prieta.

The Federal garrison in Mazatlan had been reinforced with troops from Mexican gunboats. Machine guns also were landed. Federal troops, who on April 17 the garrison marched out southward and encountered the rebel army.

Both forces fought desperately. It was said, the battle raged around Chanetla, five miles south of Mazatlan. At the time the letter was written eighteen wounded Federals had been brought into Mazatlan, indicating heavy losses on both sides.

Mexico Protests.

London, April 26.—The Mexican government has communicated to the British Foreign Office a formal protest against the action of Captain Vian, of the British sloop Shearwater, in landing marines at San Quintin, Lower California, which action is described as an interference in the internal affairs of Mexico.

An announcement to this effect was made in a cable dispatch received at the Foreign Office today from T. B. Hon-

"Berry's for Clothes"

A thoroughbred, class A1, with a blue ribbon, is the family to which our $25. fancy blue serge and chevrons belong.

Color, pattern, cut, style, finish, all show pronounced points of pedigree stock.

These suits were made by skilled artisan tailors in our New York workrooms.

No tenement house or sweat shop work.

We know the family history of every suit in our stock.

Overcoats, spring weight, wait here for you.

Underwear and overwear for man and boy.

Soft hats and kind shoes that make a worthy accompaniment.

Spaulding Shot.

Six Spaniards were shot and killed Monday at the Hacienda Atencio, in the State of Puebla, by a small band of rebels following their return to contribute 5,000 pesos to the insurgent cause.

Atencio is the hacienda where the rebels some days ago secured a quantity of rifles, considerable ammunition and 25,000 pesos. On account of that fact the owner of the hacienda, Angel Diaz Rubin, a Spaniard, announced his intention of demanding an indemnity. The rebels refused. They then attacked the Spaniards and drove them from the house, crying out: "Run, for we are going to shoot you!"

As they ran, six of the Spaniards dropped with bullets in their backs. The reason assigned by the rebels for the onslaught is that a Spaniard gave information of their whereabouts to the authorities, who had been hard pressing them.

The news of the shooting was received here this morning, and immediately the Spanish minister called at the foreign office.

The government is not ready to announce the names of the men who will represent the government in the peace conference, and no statement has been made as to where the meeting will be held. There is a good reason for believing it will be on Mexican territory. At the foreign office the announcement was made this afternoon that the armistice would be extended for five days, and Minister de la Barra expressed the opinion that no further extension would be given. He said, however, that an agreement could be reached within that time.

At the foreign office the announcement was made this afternoon that the armistice would be extended for five days, and Minister de la Barra expressed the opinion that no further extension would be given. He said, however, that an agreement could be reached within that time.

Fighting at Mazatlan.

Douglas, Ariz., April 25.—A letter to an American in Douglas, from Mazatlan, the Pacific port of Sinaloa, Mexico, received today, gives an account of a battle near Mazatlan a few days ago. According to this letter, the battle was fought at the same time that fighting was going on in Agua Prieta.

The Federal garrison in Mazatlan had been reinforced with troops from Mexican gunboats. Machine guns also were landed. Federal troops, who on April 17 the garrison marched out southward and encountered the rebel army.

Both forces fought desperately. It was said, the battle raged around Chanetla, five miles south of Mazatlan. At the time the letter was written eighteen wounded Federals had been brought into Mazatlan, indicating heavy losses on both sides.

Mexico Protests.

London, April 26.—The Mexican government has communicated to the British Foreign Office a formal protest against the action of Captain Vian, of the British sloop Shearwater, in landing marines at San Quintin, Lower California, which action is described as an interference in the internal affairs of Mexico.

An announcement to this effect was made in a cable dispatch received at the Foreign Office today from T. B. Hon-

War Veteran Dies.

Lewiston, Me., April 26.—General Steven H. Manning, a veteran of the New Hanover county, N. C., died at his home in this city to-night. He was born in Lewiston seventy-eight years ago.

GRADING THE CRIMINALS

System Instituted in New Hampshire by Governor's Order.

Concord, N. H., April 26.—By direction of Governor Robert P. Hall, a system of grading criminals has just been put in effect at the New Hampshire State prison in this city. Three classes are established. Upon entering the prison the convict is placed in the second class. If his conduct is unruly he is degraded to the third or incorrigible class; but if he is good at the end of three months he is promoted to the first class. Members of this class receive greater privileges than the others and from them alone prisoners may be released on parole on certain conditions.

At the exhibition to-night a special demonstration of athletics was given by the boys from the Pennsylvania Institution for the Instruction of the Blind. President Taft was so much interested in this that he waited after his speech to see what the boys could do.

The President then went to the Seventy-first Regiment Armory, New York National Guard, where he reviewed the men.

Shortly after 11 o'clock the President reached the Cafe Boulevard, where the Hungarian Republican Club dinner was held, and as he was thoroughly hungry, he sat down at once to dinner, amid a cheering ovation.

An incident in connection with the President's visit was the presentation to him at a reception of the Military Order of Foreign Wars of a gold, jeweled badge, representing honorary membership in the order.

At the exhibition to-night a special demonstration of athletics was given by the boys from the Pennsylvania Institution for the Instruction of the Blind. President Taft was so much interested in this that he waited after his speech to see what the boys could do.

The President then went to the Seventy-first Regiment Armory, New York National Guard, where he reviewed the men.

Shortly after 11 o'clock the President reached the Cafe Boulevard, where the Hungarian Republican Club dinner was held, and as he was thoroughly hungry, he sat down at once to dinner, amid a cheering ovation.

An incident in connection with the President's visit was the presentation to him at a reception of the Military Order of Foreign Wars of a gold, jeweled badge, representing honorary membership in the order.

At the exhibition to-night a special demonstration of athletics was given by the boys from the Pennsylvania Institution for the Instruction of the Blind. President Taft was so much interested in this that he waited after his speech to see what the boys could do.

The President then went to the Seventy-first Regiment Armory, New York National Guard, where he reviewed the men.

Shortly after 11 o'clock the President reached the Cafe Boulevard, where the Hungarian Republican Club dinner was held, and as he was thoroughly hungry, he sat down at once to dinner, amid a cheering ovation.

An incident in connection with the President's visit was the presentation to him at a reception of the Military Order of Foreign Wars of a gold, jeweled badge, representing honorary membership in the order.

At the exhibition to-night a special demonstration of athletics was given by the boys from the Pennsylvania Institution for the Instruction of the Blind. President Taft was so much interested in this that he waited after his speech to see what the boys could do.

The President then went to the Seventy-first Regiment Armory, New York National Guard, where he reviewed the men.

Shortly after 11 o'clock the President reached the Cafe Boulevard, where the Hungarian Republican Club dinner was held, and as he was thoroughly hungry, he sat down at once to dinner, amid a cheering ovation.

An incident in connection with the President's visit was the presentation to him at a reception of the Military Order of Foreign Wars of a gold, jeweled badge, representing honorary membership in the order.

At the exhibition to-night a special demonstration of athletics was given by the boys from the Pennsylvania Institution for the Instruction of the Blind. President Taft was so much interested in this that he waited after his speech to see what the boys could do.

The President then went to the Seventy-first Regiment Armory, New York National Guard, where he reviewed the men.

LED BY BLIND, TAFT HAS SEAT OF HONOR

He Occupies Great Chair Made by Sightless Upholsterer.

FORMALLY OPENS EXHIBITION

Hundreds Present to Hear President Who Cannot See Him.

New York, April 26.—The plight of the sightless, his pride in the militia and the call of the Hungarian Republican Club, brought the President of the United States to New York to-night; invitations from the Associated Press, the Methodist Social Union, and the Aeronautical Society will keep him here until midnight to-morrow busy with formal and extemporaneous addresses.

Standing to-night on the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House among a group of distinguished guests, including Associate Justice Hughes, of the United States Supreme Court, Governor Dix and Mayor Gaynor, the President touched a button which flashed a light from a large papier mache lighthouse, opening what is said to be the largest exhibition of the work of the blind ever held.

Mr. Taft's arrival had been preceded by an organ prelude by Miss Sophie Grabowski, a blind musician, who occupied a front rank among the organizers of the exhibition. The President kept the great audience clapping and cheering for several minutes.

Among the 3,000 persons at the meeting were hundreds of sightless to whom were demonstrated the spectacles which the great gathering of Oklahoma, the marvels of their own handicraft which were placed on public exhibit.

The President occupied a chair which was made by a blind upholsterer, and to which a delegation of blind people, headed by Joseph H. Choate read a letter from the President of the Senate, the blind statesman of Oklahoma, expressing regret at not being able to attend, and praising the work which the association for the blind is doing.

The President's address was a warm tribute to the New York Association for the Blind and a hearty appreciation of the work it is doing for the blind. He said that the sense which enables us to see, to read, to rejoice in the rising sun and marvel in the beauty of the setting sun, is a deprivation which is a source of grief to our hearts and brings tears to our eyes for those thus afflicted.

He reviewed the history of the movement to "introduce light into the life of the blind," and commended the campaign for proper treatment at birth to prevent ophthalmia neonatorum.

The President declared also that the kindergarten for the blind should be encouraged, as "it rescues the poor blind children under school age from imbecile and idiotic asylums, and gives them the opportunity to show that their minds are not defective, thus saving a number who would otherwise seem hopelessly deficient to become fully developed by the influences of primary and secondary education."

President Taft also spoke a word in favor of more vocational schools for the blind.

Letter From Miss Keller. Miss Winifred Holt, secretary of the New York Association for the Blind, and moving spirit of the exhibition, with whom resident Taft had dined earlier in the evening, read a letter from Helen Keller, "the foremost blind man in the world," saying that the work of the New York Association in turning blind people to profitable employment had opened up what might be termed a new era for the blind.

Miss Holt said that the association had come in contact with more than 7,000 blind persons and had helped hundreds of them to become telephone operators, barbers, stenographers, cooks and hundreds, wireless telegraph operators, carpenters and salesmen, while many had risen to professional life.

At the exhibition to-night a special demonstration of athletics was given by the boys from the Pennsylvania Institution for the Instruction of the Blind. President Taft was so much interested in this that he waited after his speech to see what the boys could do.

The President then went to the Seventy-first Regiment Armory, New York National Guard, where he reviewed the men.

Shortly after 11 o'clock the President reached the Cafe Boulevard, where the Hungarian Republican Club dinner was held, and as he was thoroughly hungry, he sat down at once to dinner, amid a cheering ovation.

An incident in connection with the President's visit was the presentation to him at a reception of the Military Order of Foreign Wars of a gold, jeweled badge, representing honorary membership in the order.

At the exhibition to-night a special demonstration of athletics was given by the boys from the Pennsylvania Institution for the Instruction of the Blind. President Taft was so much interested in this that he waited after his speech to see what the boys could do.

The President then went to the Seventy-first Regiment Armory, New York National Guard, where he reviewed the men.

Shortly after 11 o'clock the President reached the Cafe Boulevard, where the Hungarian Republican Club dinner was held, and as he was thoroughly hungry, he sat down at once to dinner, amid a cheering ovation.

An incident in connection with the President's visit was the presentation to him at a reception of the Military Order of Foreign Wars of a gold, jeweled badge, representing honorary membership in the order.

At the exhibition to-night a special demonstration of athletics was given by the boys from the Pennsylvania Institution for the Instruction of the Blind. President Taft was so much interested in this that he waited after his speech to see what the boys could do.

The President then went to the Seventy-first Regiment Armory, New York National Guard, where he reviewed the men.

Shortly after 11 o'clock the President reached the Cafe Boulevard, where the Hungarian Republican Club dinner was held, and as he was thoroughly hungry, he sat down at once to dinner, amid a cheering ovation.

An incident in connection with the President's visit was the presentation to him at a reception of the Military Order of Foreign Wars of a gold, jeweled badge, representing honorary membership in the order.

At the exhibition to-night a special demonstration of athletics was given by the boys from the Pennsylvania Institution for the Instruction of the Blind. President Taft was so much interested in this that he waited after his speech to see what the boys could do.

The President then went to the Seventy-first Regiment Armory, New York National Guard, where he reviewed the men.

Shortly after 11 o'clock the President reached the Cafe Boulevard, where the Hungarian Republican Club dinner was held, and as he was thoroughly hungry, he sat down at once to dinner, amid a cheering ovation.

An incident in connection with the President's visit was the presentation to him at a reception of the Military Order of Foreign Wars of a gold, jeweled badge, representing honorary membership in the order.

At the exhibition to-night a special demonstration of athletics was given by the boys from the Pennsylvania Institution for the Instruction of the Blind. President Taft was so much interested in this that he waited after his speech to see what the boys could do.

ACABLE AD EVERY DAY Pianos Moved

By expert car men at lowest prices.

This has been one of the special features of our big piano business for years. Why take unnecessary chances?

We will move or hoist your piano as cheaply as the inexperienced, and at the same time insure careful handling.

We advise placing your order as quickly as possible, as our big trucks are kept very busy during the moving season.

Phone Mad. 2734

Cable Piano Co.

213 East Broad.

EVERYTHING MUSICAL

There is no particular desire for the piano group, although it has been deemed a part of the Philippine archipelago. Down where the Palmas natives live, without an American among them, there is nothing to interest the government, and neither the United States nor Holland has ever felt called upon to place anybody in authority on Palmas domain. Probably half a hundred Filipinos constitute the entire population.

THEFT OF JEWELS.

Baltimore, Md., April 26.—The local police department has notified the Washington authorities to be on the lookout for Florence Johnson, a young woman, who is wanted here on the charge of stealing jewelry valued at $200 and who now is believed to be in Washington.

The robbery was a daring one, and the woman not only secured valuable jewelry, but arrayed herself in costly clothing, which was the property of Mrs. J. Edwin Davis, of Park Heights Avenue, the wife of a prominent member of the local bar. Mrs. Davis went

News of South Richmond

South Richmond Bureau, The Times-Dispatch, 1400 11th Street.

R. E. Criddle, the Swansboro man who is under indictment for the embezzlement of $200 in the Federal Court, was arrested by United States Marshal, and after the report of the jury commission had been filed with him, another warrant was issued for his arrest. Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

Although the warrant against Collie Lee, a Hickory Hill negro, charging him with betrayal of Martha Patram, colored, was returned by the Federal Court, United States Marshal, at the request of the prosecution, Criddle was having been drunk and disorderly on Easter Monday.

visiting yesterday afternoon, and no one was at home but the servant. The woman had been employed by Mrs. Davis several weeks ago, and she was engaged in her duties about the house when Mrs. Davis left her home.

Discovering the robbery. Mrs. Davis left word that she would return early in the evening. When she reached the house following her visit she called for the servant, but received no reply to her summons. Mrs. Davis then went to the second floor and she immediately discovered that her home had been robbed. She found the bedroom drawers had been rifled and that much of her clothing had been stolen from her wardrobe.

The robbery was discovered shortly past 7 o'clock, and police headquarters were communicated with immediately. In company with her husband, Mrs. Davis called on police headquarters last night, and reported in detail her loss. She gave the authorities a good description of the suspected woman. Among the articles of clothing which are missing are a woman's black coat, several undershirts, shoes, straw hat, white sweater and a black shopping bag.

The following list of jewelry was reported missing: One gold bracelet, set with twenty-two diamonds; two gold hoop rings, set with six diamonds; one gold ring set with three diamonds; one gold hunting-case watch with one pinch enamel dial, diamonds set in the back of case and with the initials "E. M. D." engraved on the outside case; single stone diamond ring, with the initials "J. E. D. to E. M. A." and the date of October 11, 1896, on inside of shank; one single-stone diamond ring, and one diamond sunburst, with three or four stones missing.

Mrs. Davis's home is near the Seven-mile House on Park Heights Avenue, and is in Baltimore county.

Tammany Hall Caught.

New York, April 26.—It came out today that Tammany Hall was a victim of the collapse of the Carnegie Trust Company to the extent of $11,837. The detailed statement of claims filed by State Banking Superintendent Cheney against the depositors of the Carnegie Trust Company, which was liquidated by Mr. Cheney, are enumerated by Mr. Cheney as follows:

Former Senator Ill. Slous Falls, S. D., April 26.—Former Senator Kittredge, of South Dakota, who died yesterday, was in a critical condition at Hot Springs, Ark., where he had gone for his health. Dispatches said he had been unconscious for twenty-four hours.

URGES SEGREGATION.

Senator Newlands Sees It Situation

Newport News, Va., April 26.—Senator Newlands, of Nevada, and Dr. Robert C. Ogden, of New York, were the principal speakers at the annual commencement of the Hampton Normal Agricultural Institute to-day. Many distinguished visitors from North and South were in attendance, a party coming by special train from Brooklyn with Mrs. Charles W. Ide, of Brooklyn.

Senator Newlands urged segregation session this week for the purpose of granting liquor licenses to dealers in the county.

Personal and General.

Robert Trego, the South Richmond man who was burned so badly in a gasoline explosion over Atkins's store Christmas week, is still confined to the hospital, but the physicians hope he will be able to go out within the next two weeks.

Bishop W. Chaney, of the Southern Methodist Church, will preach Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the Central Methodist Church.

Prof. W. Henry Baker, organist of the All Saints' Episcopal Church, will give an organ recital Friday night in the Bainbridge street Baptist Church for the benefit of a sick fund. He will be assisted by several local soloists.

Stonewall Jackson Aerie of Eagles held the regular weekly meeting last night at 8 o'clock in Fraternity Hall, three candidates being put through the ritual.

Henderson Lodge, Independent Order of Odd-Fellows, will meet to-night at 8 o'clock in the Odd-Fellows' Hall, South Richmond.

The Manchester Lodge, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, will hold its regular meeting to-night at 8 o'clock in the Elks' Home.

Swansboro Camp, Patriotic Order of America, will meet to-night at 8 o'clock in Ceresley's Hall, Swansboro.

Camp No. 11, Patriotic Order of America, will meet to-night at 8 o'clock in Fraternity Hall.

BOTTLE GONE

ATE HEARTILY

Miss C. L. Fuquay, of Springfield

Tenn., Tells Interesting Story

About Her Cure by Cardui.

Springfield, Tenn.—"I was without either energy or appetite," writes Miss C. L. Fuquay, of this place, "and my friends fussed at me for my stupidity. 'I grew worse and took to my bed, and was under a physician's treatment for over a month without relief.

"At last my mother bought me a bottle of Cardui, and before the bottle was gone I was eating heartily.